

Line up the decimal points, not the left-most digits, in each number before subtracting.