

When you perform the division, make sure your digits are lined up in columns. The 5 and 0 in the answer should be right above the 5 and 1, so the decimal point should go in between them.