

Arithmetic uses numbers and the four basic operations to represent values.