If you multiply $6 \cdot 62 = 372$ to calculate the tax, you must remember to count the number of decimal places in the two factors. There are two decimal places. Therefore, the tax is $3.72, not $37.20.