

An electrician needs a piece of cable 6 inches long for one part of a job and 3 feet of the same kind of cable for another part of the job. What is the total length of cable that he needs, in inches?