

Using the standard table, when you go from deciliters to hectoliters you are moving 3 units to the left. This means you must divide by 10 three times.