

The ratio of the unknown width, n , to the length of the photograph is $\frac{n}{8}$. The ratio for the other photograph must be set up in the same order: width to length, or $\frac{18}{24}$. Set up a proportion that states that the two ratios are equal, and solve for n . The correct answer is 6 inches.