

Using the standard table, when you go from kilometers to centimeters you are moving 5 units to the right. This means you must multiply by 10 five times.