

You may have thought you were supposed to move the decimal point four places to the left, but hectograms are larger than centigrams.