

You added the absolute values of the strokes, which is incorrect, and added a negative sign, which is correct. You should find the sum of the negatives, the sum of the positives, the difference of their absolute values, and add the appropriate sign.