

Remember that a positive number times a negative number is negative.