

Incorrect. Find the difference of the absolute values of the two numbers, which are 15 and 5. The number you get for an answer should have the same sign as the number with the greater absolute value.