

You probably multiplied 10 by 2 first. Multiplication and division should be done in order from left to right, so in this problem you should divide first, then multiply, and finally add. The correct answer is 20.