

You may have done all the operations from left to right. You must first simplify inside the brackets before multiplying by 6. Then you will subtract that result from 9.