

The expression $7.3 + (2 + (-3.1))$ is to be rewritten by applying the commutative and associative properties of addition. If you use each property only one time, which expression could be the result?