

It appears that you added all coefficients together to obtain just one term. You can only add like terms together. Like terms contain the same variables raised to the same exponents.