

The expression has been rewritten using the commutative property of multiplication. You need to use the distributive property, which says  $a(b - c) = ab - ac$ .