

You correctly added the coefficients of the like terms, but you also added their exponents. When you combine like terms, their exponents do not change.