It appears that you used the distributive property and then combined the two unlike terms by subtracting the coefficients and adding the exponents. Combine only like terms.