

When you combine like terms the result is another like term. The variable and the exponent remain the same.

This expression can first be rewritten as $(5 + 3)(m^2)$.