

You may have thought that $5x^0$ is equal to 1. The correct order of operations is to apply the exponent first and then multiply.