You may have chosen this graph because you mixed up the inequality symbols and because you do not understand what the word or means in a compound inequality. The numbers that are less than 2 are to the left of 2; the numbers greater than 5 are to the right of 5. If the word or is used, then you want all of these points.