

You may not understand how to find the solution set of a compound inequality with the word and. You need to first solve each inequality for f , and then see if there is an overlap in the graphs of the solutions.