

Mark has $4. He owes his dad $8. His math teacher says that having money can be described with positive numbers and owing money can be described with negative numbers. The teacher described the situation with this equation:

$$$4 - $8 = -$4$$

What does this mean?