

In order to multiply the variable factors, you need to add the exponents, which you did. You also need to multiply the coefficients, not add them.