Correct. You need to find all the values of x that are less than 10 units away from 0. This includes all the numbers that are between -10 and 10, so the solution is $-10 < x < 10$.