

You are probably thinking that subtracting 3 will help to isolate the variable term $2d$, but this will not be the result if it is your first step. That would work if you had $2d + 3$ alone on the left side.