

Solve the first inequality by adding 3 to both sides to get  $v < 8$ . Solve the second by subtracting 10 from both sides and then dividing by 4 to get  $v \geq 2$ . The solution of the compound inequality is the overlap of the two individual solutions. The graph of the solution falls between 2 and 8, including 2 but not including 8.