

You may not have noticed the word or in the compound inequality. This means that the solution contains values less than 3 or values greater than or equal to 5.