

Correct. You need to find all the values of x that are greater than 6 units away from 0 in either direction. This includes all the numbers that are either greater than 6 or less than -6 , so the solution is $x > 6$ or $x < -6$.