You may have correctly cleared the decimals and simplified the equation to $35x + 160 = -50$, but made a mistake with a sign when trying to isolate the variable term. The correct answer is $x = -6$.