You may have come up with the correct equation, $40p + 280 = 1,500$, and solved it correctly, but the company cannot invite half of a person. You need to interpret the answer in real world terms. The correct answer is 30 people.