

Incorrect. Use the rules of exponents to raise each factor within parentheses to the correct power. Apply the power rule, product rule, and quotient rule. Remember that a number raised to a negative power can be rewritten as 1 over that number to a positive power.