

Incorrect. Regroup using the commutative and associative properties. Multiply or divide the numbers first. Then multiply or divide the powers of 10 using either the product or quotient rule. If needed, convert the number to scientific notation and multiply it by the power of 10 found in the previous step, using the product rule.