14 is a factor of $14n^3$ but not of 16, so it is not a common factor. If you used the distributive property to multiply $14\left(n^3 + 2\right)$, you would get $14n^3 + 28$, not $14n^3 + 16$.