Incorrect. The first step would be $\dfrac{x^3}{x} = x^2$. Write that on top. Multiply: $x^2(x-2) = x^3 - 2x^2$. Write this below the dividend and subtract. Continue this process. Don't forget to put $0x^2$ into the dividend as a placeholder.