

Incorrect. The degree of a monomial is the sum of the exponents of all of its variables. Remember that when there is no exponent, that is the same as an exponent of 1. Compare the degrees of the monomials, or terms. The highest one is the degree of the polynomial. A binomial has two terms; a trinomial has three terms.