

It appears that you evaluated the expression from left to right instead of following the correct order of operations. Remember that multiplication comes before addition.