You reversed the signs of the solutions. To solve an equation in factored form, set each factor equal to 0 and solve each equation. Remember that when you solve an equation you must add the same number to both sides, or subtract the same number from both sides.