

You probably correctly factored to get  $(5x + 3)(3x + 1) = 0$ , but while solving this equation made a mistake with the signs. When you are solving equations you must add the same number to both sides, or subtract the same number from both sides.