

Begin at the origin and move four units in the negative direction (left) along the  $x$ -axis. Then move one unit down (in a negative direction). Point  $T$  is located there.