Incorrect. To find points, or ordered pairs, pick an x-value, substitute this in the equation, and find the corresponding y-value. For example, when $x = 0$, $y - 2(0) = -4$, so $y = -4$. Plot the point $(0, -4)$. Do this for a second value of x and plot the point that you get. Draw a line through the points.