

This is one solution to the system, but not the only one. If you substitute $3x + 2$ for y in the second equation and then simplify, you will end up with the equation $8 = 8$. This equation is true regardless of the value of x .