

You may have thought that a line perpendicular to  $y = 5x + 9$ , which has a slope of 5, has a slope that is the opposite of 5. However, the slopes of perpendicular lines are negative reciprocals of each other.