

Incorrect. Equations are dependent if their graphs are the same line. Therefore, the line shown is the graph of both equations. This line includes the point $(5, 0)$, for example. You can use the coordinates of this point to find the missing number.