

You have incorrectly graphed the two lines. Correctly graphed, they do not intersect in one point. The first thing to note is the slopes of the two lines and what this means about their relationship. Then note their y -intercepts. This will help you graph them. The correct answer is: The equations are independent because the lines are parallel.