

You may have thought that, because the point is on one line and in the other inequality's region, it is a solution. However, it lies on a dashed line. Points on a dashed line are not included in the solution.