The line $4y + x = -6$ is graphed correctly, but the other line is not. The point of intersection should be the solution to the system, $(6, -3)$. However, the point of intersection that is pictured is $(-6, 0)$. The correct graph of $y + 2x = 9$ goes through $(0, 9)$ and $(6, -3)$.