

Incorrect. Since the solution of a system must be a solution to both the equations in the system, check each point in each equation to find which ordered pair makes a system true.