

Correct. A system has no solution if the graphs are parallel lines. So the slopes must be the same. The first equation is a line with a slope of 3. The missing number is the slope of the second line, so it must be 3.